Advancing NHF's Mission

NHF is taking a lead coordinating role in establishing a nationwide "Health Freedom Legal Services Network."

The National Health Federation enjoys its reputation as the World's first health-freedom organization. We take pride our long history and many marked accomplishments in health freedom advocacy. Yet, in our six-plus decades of work, we've never felt comfortable resting on our laurels.

To the contrary, our Federation leaders proactively seek ways to extend our organization's effectiveness and influence. Doing so is at the core of our mission.

And it's with this goal in mind that we're delighted to announce another groundbreaking step forward in our untiring efforts to protect and advance the health rights and freedom of individuals and healthcare practitioners:

The Health Freedom Legal Services Network

The Network is being formed under the auspices of NHF, with the support of the National Center for Life & Liberty (NCLL), the Pastoral Medical Association (PMA) and the Legal Research Center (LRC).

When established, this Network of independent seasoned lawyers will serve as "go-to legal counsel" representing the diverse interests of integrative and alternative healthcare practitioners nationwide – with the primary goal of protecting and expanding their rights to practice individually and collectively.

Scott Tips, NHF President and General Counsel, noted: "The Health Freedom Legal Services Network will expand NHF's capabilities to provide effective legal assistance to NHF practitioner members and other practitioners nationwide wanting to offer integrative and alternative healthcare solutions to their patients free from adverse governmental regulation and control."

NHF is now actively recruiting experienced health freedom lawyers in every jurisdiction to join the Network. To learn more about the Network and for a form that can be used to express your interest in joining or referring an attorney, visit this link.
